

Trainee Kitchen Designer Reporting to RSBi Design Lead

Job Profile

The Trainee Kitchen Designer will work as part of the Design Team and be responsible to the Design Lead at Royal Strathclyde Blindcraft Industries (RSBI) which is part of City Building (Glasgow), for the design and surveying of kitchens and liaising with clients.

You will have a keen eye for detail, coupled with astute technical ability and be able to work on your own initiative and to tight deadlines. You will be an effective communicator who has the drive to embrace new skills and technology.

You will extract appropriate information from architect's plans to design a suitable kitchen layout that meets clients' requirements and produce accurate surveys of new build sites and existing properties. You will be required to use CAD based software to create kitchen plans and 3D images quickly and efficiently. To equip you for the challenge of the post you will receive all training necessary, including further education where appropriate.

You will have a high level of confidence with excellent communication skills in order to ensure a relationship with clients, contractors, suppliers, architects, trades, etc. You will be required to demonstrate a proven track record for meeting deadlines and able to work under pressure in addition to strong presentational and influencing skills and a flexible approach to this role.

You will be required to understand new products/materials that would be beneficial to the business and be able to prepare reports, graphic designs, sample boards and presentations as required.

Personal Profile

You will have excellent interpersonal and communication skills. You will be knowledgeable and credible in the relevant areas and will represent the interests of the Company at all times.

You will be fully conversant with up-to-date developments and will bring an innovative approach to new developments. You will have a commitment to development on a personal basis and must be prepared to undertake any relevant training and formal qualification as deemed necessary.

A full current driving licence is essential.

You will be required to have a flexible approach to this role and in your contribution to the success of the business.

Conditions

Your contracted hours of work will be 36 per week to be worked to suit the needs of the business. You will operate at all times within the framework of the LLP terms and conditions and with due regard to all Health Safety and welfare legislation.